Asbury Woods Adopts Conservation Stewardship Plan

Location of Japanese Spiraea (Spiraea japonica) an invasive species at Asbury Woods.

In July 2023, the Asbury Woods board of directors took a monumental step forward in Asbury Woods' mission to protect, manage and interpret our property by adopting a formal Conservation Stewardship Plan for the 216 acres owned by Asbury Woods. The adoption of the plan was the conclusion of more than 15 months of work by experts in the areas of land use, forest ecology, greenway planning, sustainable trails, stream restoration, and wildlife biology. The purpose of the plan was to inventory, analyze, evaluate, recommend, and provide implementation strategies to manage Asbury Woods for conservation stewardship. The plan covers the unique intersection of Asbury Woods' mission of conservation, outdoor recreation, and environmental education.

Asbury Woods undertook this process in recognition of our responsibility and commitment to actively manage the property in a responsible way, protecting the natural resources and environment while providing opportunities for public use. The long-term goal is to conserve, manage and protect the natural resources of Asbury Woods, ensuring that current and future generations can continue to access this community treasure.

The conservation stewardship plan is an exciting step in helping Asbury Woods identify and prioritize immediate, mid-term, long-term and ongoing activities and projects needed to protect what we all hold so dear. Examples include documentation of threatened plant species on our property that Asbury Woods can take steps to protect; inventory of invasive species and recommendations on strategies to control or eliminate them; a specialized review of the riparian zone and banks of Walnut Creek for the portion that flows through our property with steps to stabilize the banks and slow erosion; more than 150 proposed trail improvements; and suggestions for managing the built environment.

The conservation stewardship plan provides a roadmap for the next 5-10 years as Asbury Woods strives to protect the natural beauty of our property, protect the diversity of flora and fauna, manage the acreage in a way that allows native species to thrive and allows for public use for outdoor recreation and environmental education. In the coming years we will keep you updated on the projects we undertake and we invite you to become engaged in the plan. There are a multitude of opportunities that will be available as we roll out various monitoring strategies, as we undertake invasive plant control and when implementing trail improvements. It will take all of us who love Asbury Woods getting involved and contributing to make the implementation of this plan a reality in the years to come.

FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Planning for the Future

As Asbury Woods continues to grow, evolve, and mature as an organization, we have undertaken some significant planning projects. Our most recent is the Conservation Stewardship Plan featured in our cover article. This is a major step for Asbury Woods to be firmly planted in the conservation mindset to manage and protect these precious 216 acres of green space. We are striving to strike the balance between conservation and protection of natural resources, while staying true to the other components of our mission which include outdoor recreation and environmental education. Over the coming years the plan will come to life as we monitor, evaluate, protect, restore, and improve various parts of the property. Along the way we will be inviting many organizations and individuals to partner with us in this important work.

Jennifer Farrar, CFRE
Executive Director

I am excited to welcome several new people to our board of directors who will be helping to shape and guide the organization over the next several years: George Dusckas, T.J. Richter, Steve Ropski, Bridget Shames and Aaron O'Toole. They join us at a moment of great growth and excitement as we implement our vision for Northwestern Pennsylvania. Likewise, I'm personally grateful to our outgoing board members, whose terms have expired per our bylaws including board chair Dan Franks, treasurer Dave Uhlig and board member Chris Dolanc. Each of them has been on the board during my nearly six years at Asbury Woods, and I'm grateful for their leadership, service, dedication, and vision these past several years. During their tenures important things were accomplished such as the completion of our Preserving a Legacy campaign, the building of our accessible boardwalk, expanded staff, increased programming, the adoption of a strategic plan, the acquisition of an additional 51 acres of property and most recently the conservation stewardship plan. Our new board members will build upon the groundwork that these outgoing board members helped lay as we look to the future of Asbury Woods.

The future for Asbury Woods continues to be exciting and grounded in our mission, but we cannot do it without your help. As our programs, impact and footprint grow, we continue to rely on the incredible generosity of our supporters, whether through volunteer hours or charitable contributions, you are what makes it all possible. Thank you for being part of our circle of supporters.

I hope to see you in the Woods and on the trails soon!

Asbury Woods Recognizes Outstanding Volunteers

Asbury Woods thrives because of volunteers who play a vital role in helping us to achieve our goals of conserving the land, connecting people to nature and inspiring environmental stewardship. We were fortunate to have 285 volunteers spend 7,747 hours of their time caring for the Woods and sustaining our educational programs this past year.

The recipients of Asbury Woods' annual volunteer of the year awards go above and beyond in their efforts to inspire a greater sense of environmental awareness, sustainability and stewardship to visitors. We are proud to announce the distinguished recipients of our annual Volunteer of the Year awards.

Adult Volunteer of the Year: Cindy Gathers

Cindy grew up in Millcreek not too far from Asbury Woods and always loved walking the trails, so when she retired and was looking for a place to volunteer, Asbury seemed like the perfect fit! Since 2016 Cindy has given over 741 hours (and counting!) of her time helping us in visitor services, with maple production, during festivals as an exhibit greeter, and with Monday Music concerts. She is always willing to fill in when we put out a call! Cindy states that she, "Loves the variety of volunteer opportunities to choose from, the people I get to meet and talk with, the love of nature that is shared with others and, of course, feeding the fire in the sugar shack in winter!" Congratulations and thank you to Cindy Gathers, 2023 Adult Volunteer of the Year!

Youth Volunteers of the Year: Alaina and Lilly Nichols

Identical twins Alaina and Lilly Nichols have been volunteering at Asbury Woods since 2020. With a combined total of 524 hours, this dynamic duo first devoted their time as Animal Care assistants and more recently as assistants with our Summer Camps! The first memory they have of Asbury Woods is visiting during elementary school field trips. "We always looked forward to learning from Mr. Steve (Wasiesky), hiking in the woods and seeing the animals in the Nature Center." Now they love helping with our summer camps, getting to see the campers learn about the outdoors, and getting to teach them about the animals in the Nature Center. Congratulations Alaina and Lilly on being named our Youth Volunteers of the Year! We love having the younger generation come full circle and give back as you two have. Thank you for all your time and energy, and we hope you will keep it going!

Group Volunteer of the Year: Erie Homes for Children and Adults (EHCA)

Erie Homes for Children and Adults (EHCA) has been sending volunteers every week this year to help with indoor and outdoor maintenance, compiling a lifetime total of 186 hours.

"The EHCA Move Program has been a long-time volunteer at Asbury Woods. We value going there, enjoying nature, and having connections. All the participants say that they appreciate being involved in the community and helping at a place that they love to visit!" said Cindy Olson, Program Specialist for EHCA.

We admire their commitment to Asbury Woods, their hard work in the surrounding gardens, cleaning of the facilities and wanting to make this a better place for the community to enjoy. Congratulations to EHCA for being the Group Volunteers of the Year!
